Playoffs crunch time coming

by Marv Rosen
Sports Editor

With CIF playoffs starting next week (Nov. 3) in girls tennis and girls volleyball and boys water polo to follow the next week, then the other fall sports, every player and team is looking at possible chances for participation or seedings.

Football, the sport which gets the most attention, is often the toughest to figure out, especially for the coaches seeding committee.

The Grossmont League, with its teams not only split, more or less, along geographic lines, but by divisions that don't follow the same lines, it is sometimes truly confusing.

In the South, Helix and Granite Hills figured at the start of the season to make a run at the championships.

Of the two, Granite Hills can only hope for a place if it wins all of its remaining games, including one over Helix which may still have a chance to win the South title in that game.

Helix, which started the season ranked in the top 10, can only hope that both Monte Vista and Mount Miguel stumble in their last games, meaning its fate is not entirely in its own hands.

The Highlanders can take a giant step if it can defeat Mount Miguel on Friday.

In turn, the Matadors know that a win in that game would mean that the game the following week against Spring Valley rival Monte Vista would be for the South title and an almost certain higher seed in the first round.

With those two teams currently unbeaten, they will not be taking their final games lightly.

Valhalla is in the unenviable position of facing an angry Eagles team which was left in the dust of the Monarch's record breaking game last week.

If that is enough, the Norseman then face the Spring Valley teams, with each seeking the South title.

As to that Monarch win over Granite Hills, the San Diego Union -Tribune called the game a track meet.

Granite Hills, which had been run over by Mount Miguel, 33-13 the previous week was shocked by the Friday debacle as the Monte Vista team, led by Reynaldo Brathwaite's seven touchdowns, scored a 64-30 score.

The Monarchs set a bunch of school records in its almost unbelievable win as Braithwaite added to his record tying 42 points on touchdowns by scoring three two-point conversions for a school record 48 points (old record 42 by Ian Miller).

In addition, his 314 yards rushing set another, erasing Michael Wiley's 271 yards rushing.

If that wasn't sufficient, Braithwaite also had an interception of a pass thrown by Nick Forston.

The second quarter seemed to be a race for the teams to score as fast as possible (total 57), as the winners held on to a 35-28 margin despite the efforts of the Eagles Forston who passed for 265 yards and two touchdowns.

However, the second half was all Monte Vista as the only score for the Eagles was a two-point safety while the Monarchs rolled up 29 additional points.

To maintain its position of having the currently have the best overall record in East County, the Matadors have been doing with defense and the ability to,come from behind.

The team seems to be borrowing a page from El Cajon Valley's season last year, when the Braves made it all the way to the CIF semifinals.

On Friday, the team had to overcome a Valhalla lead twice during the game, trailing 7-0 and 14-7 at halftime before moving out to a 24-14 win by holding the Norseman team to 38 yards in the second half.

In the North, the title is not even close to being decided as no team has been able to show consistency.

The only two who are considered out of the running were both winless until last week when Grossmont visited Santana, with the home Sultans winning 28-21.

West Hills got its defense of its North title by topping El Cajon, 25-21 with the Braves now 1-1 in league.

Both these teams are trying to get into the playoffs again after loss of many of the players who led them into the CIF last year.

Alpha's neighbor not really a double star

Tonight,the moon, nearing first quarter phase, is almost half full in the south at sunset. The moon is a few degrees short of 90 degrees or a quarter- circle east of the sun. As darkness falls, look for a pair of 3rd-magnitude stars, Alpha and Beta in Capricornus, just over 2 degrees apart to the moon's upper left.

Binoculars easily show the upper one, Alpha, appears as a double star. Its two components are actually at widely different distances from Earth.

Tomorrow night, the moon has passed first quarter, and so it appear just over half full and is just over a quarter-circle east of the setting sun. When the moon is about half illuminated, telescopes and binoculars show the moon's surface features in wonderful detail.

Thursday, Venus is now in superior conjunction, beyond the sun. In December, Venus will become visible soon after sunset, and will remain in the evening sky until early August 1999.

Friday, an hour after sunset, face southeast to find bright Jupiter about 10 degrees to the moon's left.

UCSD Healthcare becomes an official Medi-Cal provider

UCSD Healthcare has announced the addition of a Medi-Cal benefits plan to UCSD Health Plan, a Knox-Keene-licensed health care service plan. The health plan is now one of seven managed care plans in San Diego County contracted with the California Department of Health Services (DHS) to provide health care to the county's more than 300,000 Medi-Cal recipients as part of the Healthy San Diego Geographic Managed Care Project.

The goals of this project are to improve access, quality and health status for the eligible Medi-Cal population and make future costs more predictable.

Jayne Chaffin, MPH, UCSD Healthcare's Executive Director, Managed Care/Business Development, explained that in the near future the Medi-Cal program will shift to a mandatory enrollment process where patients will be required to choose one of the seven DHS-contracted health plans.

Each patient also will be asked to select a primary care physician who will be responsible for coordinating the patient's health care. However, patients will be permitted to change health plans and/or primary care physicians on an unlimited basis.

The program is designed to significantly reduce distinction between a Medi-Cal patient and one that is employer sponsored.

"Continuity of care is extremely important to the patient and the health care community," said Chaffin. "With the upcoming changes in the way the state administers Medi-Cal coverage, we decided we could better serve this population by establishing a health plan that ensures that the community has access to physicians they know and trust."

According to Chaffin, by enrolling in the UCSD Health Plan, a Medi-Cal patient takes on many of the same characteristics as a commercial patient enrolled in a health plan. Medi-Cal beneficiaries will be able to identify themselves as a member of Plan X' rather than a Medi-Cal recipient.

According to Nancy K. White, director of the UCSD Health Plan, UCSD Healthcare has long been a safety net provider for this population. The expanded UCSD Health Plan network will include more than 250 primary care physicians, 700 specialists, and 14 hospitals. Members also will have access to vision and pharmacy services through the plan

UCSD Health Plan has started enrolling Medi-Cal beneficiaries on a voluntary basis. Later this year, the Department of Health Services expects to begin the mandatory enrollment process that will require all Medi-Cal beneficiaries to join one of the seven contracted managed care plans.

Playoffs

While El Capitan, the other team which may be able to muster its forces prior to the playoffs, was topped by Helix in a "low-scoring" game, 14-10.

With games against West Hills and El Cajon Valley the next two weeks, the Vaqueros face an uphill battle to stay in the playoff race.

The league's championship set for Nov. 16 at Griffin Park, followed a week later by the San Diego Sectionals the following week, the boys cross country ratings which has West Hills rated first, Granite Hills sixth and Valhalla ninth seems about right.

The Wolf Pack finished second at the star-studded Mount San Antonio races on Saturday behind Long Beach Poly, led by Tim Fox's second place in the time of 15:23 over the three mile course. Wolf Pack runners also finished 20th and 43rd.

In the large school division at the Kit Carson race in Escondido, Valhalla finished third, followed closely by Granite Hills.

In the small school division, El Capitan finished fourth.

Monte Vista's Rankin was the best East County finisher in third place in the large school's race.

No one from East County finished in the top 10 among the small school runners.

In other sports the county water polo ranking has Valhalla third, Monte Vista fifth, Grossmont sixth and Santana eighth.

In preparation for the CIF, this past week many of the better teams took part in the San Diego Water Polo Tournament.

Results for some of the top Grossmont League teams included double wins by Valhalla over Rancho Bernardo and University and Santana over Vista and University City, (which had beaten Monte Vista earlier).

In girls volleyball, which is also near the end of its regular season., straight set wins were accomplished in the North by West Hills over El Cajon Valley 15-1, 15-5 and 15-11 and Grossmont over El Capitan, in a much closer match, 15-10, 15-12 and 15-11.

In the South, it was also a straight set win for Monte Vista over Mount Miguel, 15-3, 15-6 and 15-4. The Valhalla win over Granite Hills took four sets, with scores of 15-9. 7-15, 15-9 and 15-10.

West Hills was rated sixth and Helix seventh by the county's coaches. Christian rounded out the top 10.

Three East County students in running for Heisman award

Granite Hills seniors Jason Finch and Juliet Reck and El Cajon senior Anthony Kearns are among the 11,000 students nationwide being considered for Wendy's Restaurants' prestigious Heisman award.

Co-sponsored by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York, home of the college Heisman Trophy since 1935, and the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP), the award honors top scholar-citizen-athletes at the high school level.

The coalition shares a commitment to the recognition and development of those students who pursue and achieve excellence in academics, community involvement and athletics.

To be eligible, students completing their junior year in high school must achieve at least the following: a "B+" grade point average, participation in one of 31sports officially sanctioned by the National Federation of State High School Associations and an active involvement in community service.

Entries from among the nominees by more than 23,000 high school principals (one male and one female each) will be evaluated by an educational testing service to narrow the field to 1,020 State Award Finalists. The 102 State Award Winners will be announced in October.
